

Our bodies

> **Consultez la version française**

Two bodies are tasked with ANSM's governance: a Management Board, and a Scientific Board.

In addition, since 2019, the Agency's policy of openness to civil society has resulted in healthcare system users being systematically involved in our consultative bodies of expertise. We are convinced of the need to work alongside patients and healthcare professionals to ensure that our action addresses the challenges that they face on a daily basis.

For this reason, our decisions are based on the opinions of several consultative committees, in which the expertise of representatives of civil society, their perspective, and their vision of the health sector allow objective and informed decision-making.