Scientific Board

Consultez la version française

The Scientific Board monitors the consistency of the ANSM's scientific strategy by taking into account evolving knowledge concerning the efficacy and safety of health products.

It formulates opinions and recommendations for the director general, in the context of referrals or self-referrals, relating to open and cross-cutting themes and public health issues. It contributes to the ANSM’s forward-looking thinking on future issues and challenges.

Its 16 members are appointed by the Ministry of Health. They sit for a renewable three-year term:

- 10 members are appointed based on their scientific expertise, upon the proposal of the Director-General and following a call for applications conducted by the Agency;
- 6 scientific figures, including foreign experts, are appointed on the advice of the Minister responsible for Research.
